Reentering The World

BY RABBI DAN LEVIN

In the Talmud in tractate Shabbat, there is a famous story that the great sage Rabbi Shimon bar Yochai and his son Rabbi Elazar spoke out against the Roman government and so were forced to hide in a cave for twelve years to escape the authorities.

Rabbi Shimon and Rabbi Elazar spent their days focused on prayer and study – attending the entire time to their spiritual needs and growth. Then the decree expired and they emerged from the cave.

They saw people going about their normal daily business and were consumed with judgment: "These people sacrifice their eternal salvation for momentary concerns!" The Talmud relates that everywhere they set their gaze would immediately erupt in flame.

"Did you emerge from the cave in order to destroy My world?" a Divine Voice called. "Return to your cave." After another year, they emerged again. This time they saw a man running home just before Shabbat with two bunches of myrtle. "What's that for?" they asked him.

It feels this summer like we are all emerging from our caves... We don't want to go back to the way things were; we want to go forward.

"To honor Shabbat," the man replied. "But aren't you being selfish?" they asked. "Don't you only need one?"

"I need two in honor of the two commands for Shabbat – one to remember Shabbat and the other to observe Shabbat." And the rabbis were satisfied.

I think of that story because it feels this summer like we are all emerging from our caves. During the last many months, all of us, like Rabbi Shimon and his son, were forced to stay in our caves – apart from so much of what normal life used to be.

For some of us, this time was agonizing. So many people were beset by loneliness. Many others were kept from the work and activities that not only provided sustenance but also purpose and meaning. So many missed important events – proms and graduation ceremonies put off or cancelled, weddings postponed, funerals we couldn't attend.

But for others these months opened new portals to creative and spiritual expression. Many told me that working from home allowed much more time to spend with family and children. Others offered that Shabbat observance has become an important part of the weekly routine. Others used this time to engage in new creative endeavors or to rekindle a love for old hobbies.

We can look back at the year 2020 with horror and disdain, and for good reason. There was so much disruption and hurt – livelihoods destroyed, businesses lost, illness and death. The fractures in our society seem only to widen. It would only be natural for us to come out of our caves like Rabbi Shimon and Rabbi Elazar, filled with indignation and anger, resentment and judgment.

But what if we could emerge like they did the second time – with curiosity and humility? What if we could use this time to think about the important lessons we learned from this difficult time about who we want to be and how we want to live? What if we could replace our anger and our resentment with wonder and gratitude? What if we could replace judgment with curiosity?

All of us at Temple Beth El are spending a lot of time thinking about what we learned and how we grew as a synagogue. Our struggle pushed us to engage in so much creativity, to adapt and adopt new technologies, and to tackle these challenges with perseverance and ingenuity.

We don't want to go back to the way things were; we want to go forward – exploring the lessons this time can teach us with curiosity and appreciation, and carrying forward the wisdom so that together we can be ever better servants to ourselves, to our families and community, and to the Holy One.

My Beth El Journey

WENDY WALIN
TEMPLE BETH EL
PRESIDENT
wwalin@tbeboca.org

I'm excited to be writing to you as the new President of Temple Beth El where my husband, Steve, and I have been members for 30 years. Our sons, Derek and Zachary, attended preschool at Beth El when they were each 2 years old. It was during those early years that Steve and I instinctively knew that Temple Beth El would be our home away from home. Our sons maintained lifelong friendships and we ultimately met the most wonderful, caring and inspirational people who became valued members of our Temple family. They, along with our clergy, have shared in our simchas as well as sustained us through difficult times. I cannot adequately express how much Temple Beth El has enriched our lives.

join our Board of Trustees in 2012 as the Community Services Committee Chair. In 2014, as Social Action programs continued to be such a significant part of our temple culture, the Board voted to create a Vice President of Social Action and I was asked to fill that position. In 2018, after serving in that role for four years, I became Executive Vice President. Throughout these years, I've learned from so many who helped prepare me for the honor to serve as President of our beloved synagogue. In addition to our entire Board, professional staff and clergy, I am particularly grateful to Patty Beck, Barry Podolsky and Mark Sunshine, the past Presidents with whom I've served.

When not busy with Temple, my time is spent in my career as a psychotherapist. I have been in private practice for over 20 years after having worked as both a hospice and home health care social worker. I love helping people work through their challenges to achieve happier and more fulfilling lives. I have served on the Board of Ruth and Norman Rales Jewish Family Service and the South Palm Beach/North Broward Chapter Board of JAFCO. Those positions were a perfect fit for me as both organizations work to improve the lives of those they serve.

I look forward to the New Year 5782 as we return to a more normal post-pandemic life and are able to share many wonderful times together as a sacred community.

Meet Jake Harris

OUR NEW CANTORIAL SOLOIST!

Where did you grow up?

I grew up in Cambridge, Massachusetts, down the street from Harvard square.

What drew you to a career in music?

Even before I knew how I would make a career out of music. I knew I had to. While I haven't always had formal training, my life has revolved around music for quite some time. I grew up playing guitar and copying old classic rock albums. I studied piano and composition in college and ended up with a degree in vocal performance. Throughout high school I made recordings in my bedroom studio with my friends. I couldn't imagine doing anything else.

How did you decide to become a Cantorial Soloist?

Halfway through music school, I met someone who was a teacher at the local seminary in Newton. I told this person of my family's relation to the Jewish liturgical composer Louis Lewandowski. She was so excited to hear this and urged me to do more research about who he was. Through understanding the contributions Lewandowski made to Judaism through composing music, I saw it only fitting for me to dedicate myself to temple music as well. I believe the role of the temple musician is to inspire, unite, and console the people whom they serve. Cantorial work connects eager spiritual music-makers with people who are directly in need of their services. It allows me to apply everything I have trained for in life. I hope to make music in support of people and their spiritual journeys.

What are you most excited about in joining Temple Beth El?

I first stepped foot in the temple for a youth choir event that was taking place the fall before the pandemic. I remember feeling a sense of calm as I walked down the halls of the Schaefer Family Campus. "What a magnificent place" I thought. I then found myself at the Beck Family Campus a few weeks later. Another sense of peacefulness overtook me as I felt grateful for the care given to the continuity of Jewish education. Soon after, I was shown the Beth El Mausoleum. I felt serenity and solemnity.

I thought to myself how incredible it was. An institution that backed the Jewish promise, to serve the community at every stage of life, from early education, through death. I am humbled by the chance to serve you and am eager to get to know you all. My arrival comes at a peculiar time. Nothing gets us through the painful challenges of our existence quite like music. I am excited to help bring it to you.

AUGUST 13 · 7:30PM Shabbat Service: Blue Jeans Shabbat!

Wear your favorite blue jeans and celebrate Shabbat with your Beth El family as we celebrate new beginnings. We will sound the shofar signifying the start of Elul leading up to the High Holy Days and honor our students beginning this new school year.

AUGUST 20 • 7:30 PM Shabbat Service: Inspirational Quotes with Guest Speaker Seth M. Siegel

We are honored to feature New York Times bestselling author Seth M. Siegel who has spent a lifetime collecting quotations that can guide us through every life challenge and experience. This will spearhead our project for this month of Elul, when we will be examining quotes that can help us prepare for the High Holy Days.

AUGUST 27 · 7:30 PM Shabbat Service: Count Your Blessings

This Shabbat, our Torah portion Ki Tavo inspires us to count our blessings and reconsider the challenges we often see as curses that we face in our lives.

DAILY QUOTES FOR THE THIRTY DAYS OF ELUL TO PREPARE US FOR THE JEWISH NEW YEAR

August 9- September 6, 2021

BY RABBI JESSICA SPITALNIC MATES

Over my desk hangs a letter from my grandfather he sent a few months before he died. Like most letters from my grandparents it contained a five or ten-dollar bill, but the letter is more valuable than that, "Dear Jessica, I heard this on the radio in the middle of the night. 'Religion is like falling in love, whether you believe in it or not it takes over your heart and soul. It makes the world go round.' Love, Grandpa."

Think about the quotes that inspire you, that you share with your kids, or someone you admire shared with you. Maybe it's on a mug or a pillow or just stamped into your memory. Short quotes can distill for us larger concepts we want to use to guide our lives.

Seth M. Siegel, writer, lawyer, activist, and serial entrepreneur, has been gathering quotes since high school and has a new book Other People's Words: Wisdom for an Inspired and Productive Life. He has used these quotes to guide his life and as lessons to live by.

Inspired by Seth's new book, through the month of Elul, the month before the High Holy Days, through various platforms we will share quotes that can pave the path for our High Holy Day worship including Shabbat services Friday, August 20, 2021, when Seth will be our featured speaker.

Share your favorite quotes with Rabbi Jessica Mates at jmates@tbeboca.org and if we use it as one of our daily Elul quotes you win a copy of Seth's new book.

A DYNAMIC EVENING FEATURING CAROLINE ROTHSTEIN

Embracing Curiosity in a Season of Judgment

August 28, 2021 – 7:30pm In Person at the Schaefer Family Campus and Online at Virtual Beth El

This evening will be unforgettable as we are inspired by the words of Caroline Rothstein, internationally touring and acclaimed writer, poet and performer, based in New York City.

Through dynamic poetry, passionate music and moments of thought and self-reflection, we will seek to understand what it really means to embrace spiritual renewal, guided by our clergy and our guest, Caroline Rothstein.

By looking at ourselves through a new lens of curiosity, we will embark on the new year from a place of healing, wholeness, and love.

Caroline Rothstein has been performing spoken word poetry, public speaking, facilitating workshops and teaching at colleges, schools, performance venues, summer camps, and community organizations for over a decade. One Million Reasons to Be Thankful! The 2020-2021/5781 Annual Giving Campaign

It feels like it was yesterday when we met with the Development Task Force to plan Temple Beth El's 2020/2021 Annual Giving Campaign.

It was May of 2020. No reminder needed as to what was transpiring at that time.

What you may not know is that the Temple Beth El budget had been recently approved without a crystal ball to predict how the pandemic would unfold. Just like years past, Annual Giving had a goal of $350,000, but a need existed to accommodate an additional $600,000 to make up for an anticipated pandemic-induced shortfall.

There was so much uncertainty. How long will this last? How engaged will our incredible congregants be during a year where we can't physically be together? Will we have to close our Early Learning Center for an entire year? Can we build a "Virtual Beth El?" Will we "make it"? So many questions, so few answers.

With the help of temple Senior Staff and the incredible wisdom of the Development Task Force, the "Chai-line to Healing" was born. Our largest Annual Giving campaigns to date had been successful and achieved a goal of around $380,000. What we did know, however, was that even if we came up short, our Temple Beth El community could participate and become a Chai-line to heal those around us experiencing the profound impact of this pandemic... we could make a difference.

The Chai-line to Healing was.... One Campaign....
One Community... One audacious goal of $1,000,000.

As of May 1, 2021, we have reached and surpassed $1,000,000. What an incredible accomplishment!

Thank you to all of our Temple Beth El Chai-Lines to Healing. Your passion and generosity came at a time where it was needed most. Your outpouring of support and overwhelming compassion ensured that we could extend support far beyond our temple walls. As your donations arrived, we put them to use where it was needed most. We made timely deliveries to food insecure individuals and households, provided emergency financial assistance and kept our community strong during a time where so many depended upon us.

If not for you, so many men, women, children and older adults would not have had food on their tables. Some of our beloved congregants would have faced eviction and foreclosure. If not for you, a difficult year for so many would have truly been impossible to overcome.

The Temple is strong.... a beacon of hope and a spiritual safe-haven because of you. In a time of darkness for so many, there is still a light that shines bright at Temple Beth El.

That light is you. Thank you, Derek Hurwitch & Shayna Martinoff

Thank You to Our 2020-2021 Annual Giving Donors and Sustaining Members

We gratefully acknowledge our members who helped us in 2020-2021/5781 to continue to dream bigger and strive to serve more members of the community in meaningful ways. We celebrate great joys and comfort each other in moments of deep sorrow. We learn and pray together. We work towards the task of tikkun olam. We find meaning in our Judaism. We are Temple Beth El.

Our Sustaining Members contributed above and beyond the standard congregational commitment to provide a sustainable base of revenue, and ensure that Temple Beth El is open to all who may need the embrace of our community, or the guidance of a caring rabbi and a holy tradition. Our Annual Giving Donors contributed to ensure we could provide scholarships so that anyone who wants to worship or obtain a Jewish education at our temple is able to do so, and to help those in our congregation hardest hit during the pandemic.

Many Reopenings Later

BY RONNI GRAF BETH EL EARLY LEARNING CENTER DIRECTOR rgraf@tbeboca.org

My perspective on "reopening" may be a little bit different than the norm these days. After closing on March 13, 2020 when the world went into quarantine, the Beth El Early Learning Center reopened our doors to our students on August 31, 2020. Each morning since, we have welcomed our children to school and been grateful to be together. When we first "reopened" many of our families were making difficult choices about what was best for them. We created deferment and withdrawal options to do our best to meet the needs of everyone in our school community. As a result, in the time that has ensued, we faced the unusual situation of reinstating students each month for school as the pandemic ran its course and we were successful.

In this way, I have been blessed to witness countless "reopenings" in this past year. As each child began in our program, emerging from their time in isolation with their families at home, I have gotten to watch individuals re-acclimate to school, routines, friends, and teachers. I see their joy as their curiosity is awakened, they are again able to play with others, and engage fully in all of the incredible experiences that their teachers so carefully plan. As we began summer camp this past year, we welcomed many students back for the first time since March of 2020 and some that have never been in school before. It has been interesting to watch these children as they remember old routines and learn new ones.

And now, as we look toward the 2021-22 school year, we are able to look forward to yet another reopening. With high percentages of our staff and parents vaccinated, we are able to reopen together in different ways, slowly making our way back toward "normal." The happiness in having some of our parent events and Parenthood meetings in person, the ability to have children visit their new classrooms, welcoming therapists, enjoying in person special and enrichment activities, and the hopes that we can update our policies to once again welcome parents into the building for drop off and pick up. So many things that we once took for granted, we no longer will.

Of course, the health and safety of our students, staff and families will continue to be our top priority. We know that until a vaccination is approved for children under 5, our students remain at risk of Covid infection and our protocols for socially distancing children in their "bubbles" will remain a necessity, but I cannot help but feel incredibly optimistic as we come out from this very long tunnel together and emerge into the light. This is truly the reopening that we have been longing for!

I see their joy as their curiosity is awakened, they are again able to play with others, and engage fully in all of incredible experiences that their teachers so carefully plan.

HEATHER EREZ
DIRECTOR OF YOUTH EDUCATION AND ENGAGEMENT
herez@theboca.org

We are counting down the days of when we get to throw our doors wide open and welcome our K-12 students back IN PERSON this August. In addition to physically embracing one another (COVID permitting), our arms are also wide open in support of each of our students as they embrace reentry a different way. For many of our students, this is their first time in our campus, ever. For some, it's been 18 months and it will feel like their first time. Each one of us has changed and grown and our faculty is ready to embrace each child for the magnificence they bring to our classroom, community and the world. This year our students will be studying Hebrew, Jewish Culture, Bible, Judaic History, Liturgy and Holidays, but our focus will be to create an inclusive community, ensuring that every child is seen and knows that he/she is an integral part of our school and synagogue.

The partnership between our staff and parents is imperative in helping us to provide the best experience we can for our children. I urge you to make religious school and engagement opportunities a priority this year. The more interactions our children have with each other and Temple Beth El, the more they feel connected with the community and empowered to navigate their experience confidently as we rededicate ourselves as a religious school community.

I am always available to speak and to learn more about your child and family and am dedicated to do what we can to make this the best year yet. See you soon!

Volunteer Opportunity

WE WANT YOU TO JOIN OUR CHAVERIM TEAM

Chaverim means friends!

This wonderful group of congregants volunteer by calling their fellow synagogue members before the Jewish holidays and Rosh HaShanah is right around the corner. These phone calls are one of the many important ways we connect with each other and all you need to do is say hello, how are you and Happy New Year! A friendly call from a fellow congregant a week or two before the holiday can make such a difference. With your help, we will be able to continue acting as a community, a family and truly, a caring congregation.

We'll send you the list of households to call, along with a helpful script. If you can assist us with this meaningful mitzvah, please RSVP by Monday, July 12, 2021 to Julie Guzy at jguzy@tbeboca.org.

BROTHERHOOD

BY CARLOS ROMERO BROTHERHOOD PRESIDENT info@tbebrotherhood.org

And down the stretch we come......the Covid-19 lockdown will be pretty much over as you read this Chronicle. Life in Boca Raton is getting back to normal. Go to any restaurant on a Saturday night and you know what I mean.

Your Temple Beth El Brotherhood is looking forward to re-engaging in person. These past 15 months, we adapted to maintain a sense of community. Meaningful, new friendships were forged via our weekly Zoom poker games. It was awesome to see it happen. While we could not have our annual Mother's Day event, we did send special Mother's Day gift baskets to many families in our community who have experienced loss during these past 15 months. Making a difference is what it is all about with us!

There is tremendous energy among the Brotherhood, especially the younger men that represent the future of the Brotherhood leadership. I was once one of those younger men. It is richly rewarding to know that I have been a part of something that has a bright future.

We have a golf event coming up soon. Be on the alert because as we write this, we are deciding between a fall and spring date. Our location will be the beautiful Boca Rio Golf Club. As always, there will be terrific food, experiences, raffle items and a celebration of the contributions of a wonderful individual, Dr. Robert Colton. A true mensch! Stay tuned for details.

We are finalizing a date for an in-person networking event sometime in August or September. I invite you guys to come and meet some new men in our Beth El community who enjoy helping one another, who enjoy making a positive impact on our local community, and who are just a lot of fun.

Beth El Babkallah

Kick up your bread baking game with this babka-challah mashup. Adapted from "Dessert Person" by Claire Saffitz.

FOR THE DOUGH

1/2 cup whole milk (113g) 1 envelope (7g) of active dry yeast (about 2 1/4 teaspoons) 1/2 cup granulated sugar (66g) 4 large egg yolks 1 teaspoon vanilla extract 3 cups all-purpose flour (390g), plus more for kneading 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt (3g) 1 stick unsalted butter (113g), cut into 1/2 inch pieces at room temperature, plus a little more for the bowl

FOR THE FILLING AND ASSEMBLY

6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate (170g), finely chopped (about 1 cup) 1/2 cup packed light brown sugar (65g) 11/2 teaspoons ground cinnamon Pinch of kosher salt 4 tablespoons unsalted butter (57g), melted and cooled 1 large egg, beaten Demerara sugar, for sprinkling on top

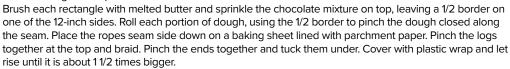

In a small saucepan, heat the milk until it is warm but not hot, about 105°F. Pour the milk into a large bowl and add the yeast. Stir and let it rest until it is foamy on the top.

Add the granulated sugar, egg yolks and vanilla to the yeast mixture and whisk. Add the flour and butter and mix with a wooden spoon. The dough will be shaggy at this point. Dump the dough out onto a lightly floured surface and knead. The dough will become smooth, about 8-10 minutes. Gather the dough into a ball. (You can also do this in a stand mixer with the dough hook.)

Butter the inside of a large bowl and place the dough in the bowl. Cover with plastic wrap and let rise until it has doubled in size, about 11/2 to

While the dough rises, combine the chocolate, brown sugar, salt and cinnamon in a small bowl.

Place the dough onto a clean surface and divide it into 3 equal pieces. Roll each piece into a 12-inch rope. Using a rolling pin, roll the dough into a rectangular shape about 12 x 4-inches.

Preheat the oven to 350°F and place an oven rack in the center of the oven. Brush the loaf with the beaten egg and sprinkle with the demerara sugar. Bake the babkallah for about 35 to 45 minutes until the crust is a deep brown. Let cool on a wire rack before serving.

The Expert In Orthopedic Spine Surgery

Robert P. Norton, M.D., F.A.A.O.S. Florida Spine Associates

Dr. Norton is a world-leading expert in minimally invasive spine surgery and in office treatment of vertebral compression fractures with the kyphoplasty procedure. Dr Norton spends time when not seeing patients, teaching other surgeons cutting-edge minimally invasive surgical techniques. He recently even wrote a book chapter for a major spine textbook on how to do the kyphoplasty procedure in the office.

Throughout his career, Dr. Norton has had a strong interest in academic medicine and has been actively involved in teaching and research. He has authored multiple publications on a variety of topics related to spine surgery in numerous peer-reviewed journals and textbooks. He has received several research grants and has presented his research at both national and international conferences.

Compression fractures of the spine occur most often in people with osteoporosis, after a fall, after a forceful cough or sneeze, or simply from bending over to tie shoes. Fortunately, he can treat patients with an easy solution called a Kyphoplasty, performed in my office in about 10-minutes. After numbing the area, he will simply place a small needle into the broken bone under x-ray guidance. He can then inject a small amount of bone "glue" to stabilize the broken bone. This is a permanent fix and serves to get rid of the pain from the broken bone and prevent further collapse of the bone so you don't become deformed and hunched over. The pain is gone immediately and you can walk out of the office with just a Band- Aid! Skilled in the most advanced surgical techniques and emerging technologies, Dr. Robert Norton offers expertise in all aspects of spine care. His expertise and excellent surgical outcomes have earned him the nickname, "Miracle Worker."
