Resilience and Renewal

BY RABBI DAN LEVIN
dlevin@tbeboca.org

Last month, in the Olympic track and field 800m semi finals, Isaiah Jewett was rounding the final turn when he felt something clip his heel.

The NCAA champion and USC graduate had worked insanely hard to make the Olympic team, and felt like he was in just the right position to start his kick and charge to the final.

But then suddenly, it was over. Nijel Amos, a veteran medal contender running right behind Jewett, clipped his heel, causing Jewett to stumble and fall. Amos tripped over him and crumpled next to him.

Jewett leaned over and extended his hand.

"I'm sorry," Amos said.

"Let's just finish the race, man," Jewett said.

They put their arms around each other, and jogged together down the track to finish the race. "I always have to finish a race," Jewett said.

As the year 5781 draws to a close, I think about how many of us can relate to Isaiah Jewett. For so many of us, this past year was one of crushing disappointment. So many events called off and cancelled - Bar/Bat Mitzvah celebrations truncated and weddings postponed. Many who came down with illness still suffer the aftereffects of this menacing virus. So many mourned losses with no opportunity to feel the comforting embrace of family and community.

When we fall, how do we get up? When we suffer the ordeals of trauma and trial, how do we cultivate the resilience to move forward? How do we push ourselves to finish the race?

One way we nurture resilience is by turning our attention inward and focusing on what is truly of ultimate value in life. In collecting our Cheshbon HaNefesh – our annual accounting of our soul, we think about what is truly the message we want to convey as we author our chapters in the book of life.

In preparing for his race, Jewett explained his strategy: "I realized my race strategy is what I am supposed to do to make me happy," Jewett said. "Having fun is so much a part of this."

But more than just having fun, he realized there was a larger mission than just winning a medal. "Regardless of how mad you are, you have to be a hero at the end of the day," Jewett said. "That was my version of trying to be a hero, standing up and showing good character, even if it's my rival or whoever I'm racing or if anything happened. I don't want to show any bad blood, because that's what heroes do. They show their humanity through who they are."

The New Year 5782 begins in a period of uncertainty. The light we saw at the end of the pandemic tunnel seems much further away. But let us together enter the New Year by showing our humanity through what really matters.

We can enter the New Year counting our blessings and with an attitude of gratitude. We can enter the New Year by opening our eyes to the awesome wonder that is the world in which we live. We can enter the New Year by resolving to greet the world with kindness and graciousness. We can enter the New Year committed to working for justice and protecting the vulnerable. We can enter the New Year committed to becoming the best version of our most authentic selves.

All of us at Temple Beth El look forward to a High Holy Day season which will inspire us to greet the New Year with resilience and hope. May we all be inscribed for a year of blessing, renewal, healing, and peace.

Beth El Talks 5782

A Celebration of Resilience

Join us on Yom Kippur Afternoon at 1:30pm for Beth El Talks, our community's opportunity to draw inspiration from the stories and journeys of fellow Temple Beth El members. This year, our three remarkable participants will share their experience of finding resilience and renewal in the face of extraordinary personal challenge.

Harold Jonas, PhD, LMHC, CAP is a recognized expert in the behavioral health industry, specializing in addictions. His own journey to find recovery from drug addiction led him to become a leading entrepreneur in the recovery community. After developing a network of sober living residences, he conceptualized and developed SOBER.COM, the first comprehensive internet directory for the addiction community and profession. Dr. Jonas will also reflect on his journey through grief following the loss of his son.

Kira Melamed-Vainberg grew up in Zhitomir, Ukraine. Following high school, she made Aliyah (moved to Israel) and worked to integrate into the modern State of Israel. Following her marriage and the birth of her son, Kira and her husband Michael decided to move to the United States, and just prior to departing, she received news she had breast cancer. Kira will share how she faced the struggles of emigration and fighting the scourge of cancer.

Captain Jeff Schneider served in the U.S. Army for 10 years, deploying to Kuwait and Bosnia. Following his discharge in 2000, Capt. Schneider was recalled to active duty in 2004 and was given command of the 227th transportation company with the 101st airborne division. The roaddogs of the 227th completed more convoy miles and missions than any other unit in Iraq during their time there, and despite averaging contact with enemy forces every third day, all 154 soldiers in the company returned home to their families. Awarded the Bronze Star, Capt. Schneider will share his experience of resilience and renewal from serving in combat and war.

Shabbat Shuva

A SHABBAT EVENING SERVICE TO HONOR THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE ATTACKS OF 9/11

September 10, 2021 • 7:30pm

September 11, 2001 is a day that is seared into the consciousness and the soul of America. The horrific attack took the lives of nearly 3,000 people on that day, and in the aftermath has claimed the lives of thousands more, including those from 9/11 related illnesses. On this 20th anniversary, we reflect on how we can sanctify the memories of those who were lost.

Shabbat Shuva Guest Speaker:

Mary Fetchet lost her son Brad in Tower Two on 9/11 and help start the 9/11 family advocacy group, VOICES Center of Excellence for Community Resilience. She has channeled her unique background as a mother of a victim, along with 20 years of expertise as a clinical social worker, into helping communities heal after acts of mass violence or natural disasters.

What is Spirituality?

BY CANTORIAL SOLOIST
MICHELLE AUSLANDER COHEN

Brene Brown, esteemed researcher, educator and speaker, has spent the past two decades studying courage, vulnerability, shame and empathy. In all of her research of the human condition, she has come up with the following definition of spirituality:

“Spirituality is recognizing and celebrating that we are all inextricably connected to each other by a power greater than all of us, and that our connection to that power and to one another is grounded in love and compassion. Practicing spirituality brings a sense of perspective, meaning, and purpose to our lives.”

Perspective. Meaning. Purpose.

I have always considered myself to be a spiritual person, and music has always been the vehicle through which I connected to that part of myself. In recent years, I searched for Jewish based programs that would fulfill my desire to study spirituality, and discovered a program called spiritual direction. A spiritual director is one who accompanies others as they reflect on their life's journey, cultivate their inner life, and work to fulfill their life's purpose. When I learned of this program, I knew this was the path for me, and then..... COVID! All the programs shut down indefinitely.

In January of 2021, like many others, I was feeling antsy and frustrated with our status quo, and began researching what kind of programs might be offered virtually. After much research, I found the program that fit my needs, and seven months later, I received my Spiritual Life Coaching Certification.

Judaism teaches us that to save one life is to save the world. My goal is to help people understand that every one of us has infinite value. Not because of what we accomplish or a title we've earned, but for who we authentically are - as each one of us is created B'tzelem Elohim, in the image of God. By studying spirituality, I feel a step closer in being able to help people on this journey.

Spirituality teaches us how to safely peel away the layers we believe we need to survive in this world. Sometimes we need those layers, but let's make sure our armor is made with confidence, love, empathy and inspiration.

So Now What?

I am excited to look at our already amazing Beth El calendar of programming, and begin to find ways to infuse more perspective, meaning, and purpose into all that we do. With a wonderful group of lay leaders and our phenomenal clergy team, we are working on fulfilling our mission of creating a dynamic and meaningful center of Jewish Spirituality for our members and the community at large.

In every stage of life from preschool through sacred aging, our goal is to offer classes, speakers, programs and resources that will inspire every single one of us to live lives filled with meaning and purpose. And through Jewish wisdom, and the wisdom we find within ourselves, we will learn to nurture, love and respect the divine spark within, and with each other.

Stay tuned, there is so much more to come.

Ma Tovv:

Familiar Song, Farcical Story and Future-Focused

Rabbi Michael Birnholz

Tuesdays, October 5, 12, 19 & 26

12:00 – 1:00pm

Virtual Beth El (Zoom, Livestream, YouTube)

Balaam the prophet of Moab is hired to curse the People of Israel. Instead he offers blessings.

In Numbers 24:5 we read Mah Tovv

How fair are your tents, O Jacob, Your dwellings, O Israel!

Each morning we have an opportunity to say these words and live out Balaam's experience: surveying the world and choosing between blessing and curse. One little line is all it takes to spark a great conversation and lots of learning.

We should study this text because:

- A) It's an amazing story with a spiritually-aware talking donkey!
- B) We should reflect on the words we say and stories we tell and pivotal moments in our day.
- C) We have to ask; can we turn curses into blessings or turn the blessing of others into a blessing for ourselves?

Rabbi Michael Birnholz arrived at Temple Beth Shalom in Vero Beach in 2002 following his ordination from Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion. Over the almost 20 years that Rabbi Birnholz has been in Indian River County, he and his family have had a chance to grow in body, mind and spirit right along with Temple Beth Shalom.

What Sets Us Apart

BY RONNI GRAF
BETH EL EARLY
LEARNING CENTER
DIRECTOR
rgraf@tbeboca.org

We are very lucky to live in South Florida. We are blessed with an active, vibrant, diverse and strong Jewish community. While Boca's reputation may be as a retirement destination, the number of Early Childhood Centers in a Jewish setting tells a very different story. With so many options, how does one choose?

One of the best parts of my job is getting to speak with prospective families. I know that the school parents choose for their child is a major decision. A common question I hear is, "What sets you apart from the others?" or "Why should I choose your school?" As I reflect upon all that we offer to our students and their families, I never lack for answers. Here are just a few:

- High quality, dedicated staff—Our teachers are all professionals in early childhood education. They not only are kind, warm, and loving, but they are individuals who are dedicated to making a difference in the lives of their students each and every day. Many of our staff have worked at the Beth El Early Learning Center for over 5 years.

A common question that I hear from prospective families is, "What sets you apart from the others?" or "Why should I choose your school?"

- Community — Synagogue membership is included in tuition for all families with a child enrolled in the Early Learning Center. Our school is not only a place where your child can receive a top notch educational experience to set them on a path for lifelong success, it is also a community to support your entire family.
- Cutting Edge Philosophy of Education — All of the research in child development for decades has concluded that children learn best through hands-on experiences where all of their senses can be engaged in learning. At our school, we recognize that children are processing information all the time. Our teachers plan a wide variety of independent and teacher supported centers to help them meet and exceed their developmental milestones.

- Full-time care for infants and toddlers — We were the first and still one of the few synagogue-based schools in our area to offer childcare for very young children and their working parents.
- Differentiation — We recognize that each student is an individual with their own needs and talents. We build on children's strengths and support them where they face challenges by providing individual accommodations in lesson planning.
- Parenthood — our incredible parent organization that supports our staff, students and families in a multitude of ways. They plan our annual book fair, organize our room parent network, staff appreciation week, Family Fun Day and more. They create social opportunities for parents to meet each other and make connections through their "Night Out" events. These volunteers work tirelessly to transform our school into a community.

Perhaps most importantly, and harder to describe, is the palpable feeling of joy and happiness you can sense as you walk through our beautiful Courtyard and peer through the giant picture windows into our busy classrooms. I can't imagine a better place for a young child to be!

Can't Wait to See You!

HEATHER EREZ
DIRECTOR OF YOUTH EDUCATION AND ENGAGEMENT
herez@tbeoca.org

It's been 532 days since the Sundays when we welcomed our Religious School students back on campus in person with high fives and smiling eyes. My heart was exploding as kids came bursting out of their car doors, the anticipation and excitement of seeing old friends and embarking on a new year was palpable. It goes without saying that we are focused on creating the safest experience for our community. But another 5782 goal is reestablishing our bonds with one another. Whenever a student isn't at school, we know it and they are missed. When we talk about our school being special, it's our students and their uniqueness that creates the atmosphere that we love, the love of Temple Beth El.

Through our Morning Meetings in every class and our Tribal Gatherings we strengthen the bonds between students that keeps them wanting to come back. I encourage parents to sign up for Gatherings and for our teens to attend our Social Events on Tuesday nights.

These friendships are what makes being part of a Jewish community special. Share articles or engage in dialogue through your Tribe's Facebook page, and socialize with other Temple Beth El families to increase your participation and own feeling of connectedness at the synagogue. Your family will get so much more out of these interactions than what was put into them. The experience is just priceless.

I will continue to look forward to seeing all your shining eyes as often as possible!

BEN ZOMA SAYS:

Who is wise?
He who learns from every person.

— Pirkei Avot 4:1

This year, we promise to learn from one another... students, teachers, rabbis and parents all have lessons to share. Of course, we strive to achieve curriculum benchmarks and a love of Judaism. But we also strive to teach resilience, humor, kindness, love of learning, Jewish values and the spirit of community.

We are so grateful to our teachers who show up with passion and drive, seeing the future in the eyes of every one of our amazing students. We wish you all an amazing, safe and healthy 5782.

A Message from the New Sisterhood Co-Presidents

BY LISA WOLFE SWARTZ AND
SUSAN JUSTER GOLDSTEIN
SISTERHOOD CO-PRESIDENTS
tbebocasisterhood@gmail.com

We are excited to get to work, continuing to offer quality programming for both members and non-members, as well as sending Shiva platters and Tribute notes; welcoming new members to our temple; and raising money for many Temple, Early Learning Center and Religious School activities.

And now a few words from our new Co-Presidents:

Hello! My name is Susan Juster Goldstein, and I've lived everywhere from Seattle, Washington to Washington, DC and many points in-between, but now call Delray Beach home. I have two sons & their families who all live in Atlanta, Georgia, along with my two incredible grandbabies. My hobby is writing, and my short stories have been featured in several online magazines. I have a blog that I update sporadically: "Seriously? Life is too short, and so am I" at very-seriously.com. Sisterhood has given me the opportunity to make some amazing friends and attend some great events. I hope to encourage more women to join us!

Hello, my name is Lisa Wolfe Swartz. I grew up in King of Prussia, Pennsylvania and moved to Boston to attend Northeastern University. In 1999, we moved to Boca Raton. I am a pediatric Physical Therapist and presently work for West Boca Medical Center in their Outpatient Therapy department.

I like to stay active. I run, bike and swim and have done a few races including a marathon in Tel Aviv a few years back. I love to travel and pairing the travel with destination races makes for lots of memories.

I raised three boys as a single mom and my youngest is in grad school at UF. I got married in May last year during the pandemic on a zoom wedding to my husband Mitch Gross. It was definitely a different experience and a lot of fun planning. Fun fact, my husband Mitch and I met back in our synagogue's youth group and reconnected after many years.

I joined Temple Beth El after a friend brought me to the Sisterhood Bingerita. I was instantly welcomed by so many wonderful people and decided that TBE was where I was meant to be. A few years later I was asked to co-chair the same bingo event and now I am excited for the opportunity to be your Sisterhood Co-President.

A Message from the New Brotherhood Co-Presidents

BY CARLOS ROMERO
AND KEVIN ROMER
BROTHERHOOD
CO-PRESIDENTS
brotherhood@tbeboca.org

How fast time flies! It seems like yesterday we were celebrating 5781 completely remotely via zoom. Things are certainly improved over the uncertainty we all experienced during the past 18 months.

Our Brotherhood has continued to impact our community throughout this time. Whether it was supporting the Rabbi's Discretionary Fund or sending Mother's Day gifts to our families that lost loved ones, we kept working to make a difference.

A big initiative you may have heard of was the Christmas bike effort we did to support children served by the Wayne Barton Center in East Boca. In the midst of a pandemic, Wayne needed help. With the support of people like Dana Brown, her family, and Paul Weiner, we secured 100 bikes that Wayne was able to provide many of the kids he serves. Kids whose biggest holiday gift was a new bike. The Brotherhood helped make it happen.

As this year swings into full gear, we are excited to honor Drs. Robert and Andrea Colton at this year's Brotherhood Golf Tournament which will be held November 15, 2021 at Boca Rio Country Club. The golf tournament has been a great event for bringing together our community while honoring the contributions of our distinguished Temple families. The Colton's are helping to support the Brotherhood's Project Rampart as well as the Rabbi's Covid-19 Discretionary Fund for our Temple Beth El families impacted by the pandemic. Please contact us at brotherhood@tbeboca.org for more information.

We are also enthusiastic about having initiated the Brotherhood Networking Series in August to learn about personal and professional interests and make special connections. Watch for our next event!

If you know them, reach out to them and share your thoughts about future Brotherhood program ideas. We are committed to keeping the Brotherhood of Temple Beth El a vibrant contributing group within our Temple family.

One constant of being Jewish is an understanding of change. Change in where we live, change in what we do, and change in the people leading our institutions. We are proud to share with you the latest changes in the leadership of your Temple Brotherhood. We have created a structure that combines empty nesters and young dads with strong succession planning. We'd be remiss not to acknowledge the support we have received from past Presidents Andrew Zwick and Alan Klasfeld these past few years.

All the best in 5782 and the year ahead.

MISSION

The mission of Temple Beth El is to inspire a passionate commitment to Jewish life, learning, community and spiritual growth.

VISION

Temple Beth El of Boca Raton seeks to be a deeply compelling center of Reform Judaism, integrating the wisdom of Torah and tradition with the modern world in which we live. Our congregation will:

Welcome, involve and inspire all who enter, embracing the unique contributions of every individual.

Reach out to the larger community to encourage participation in synagogue life.

Celebrate, grieve, heal and grow together through all seasons of life.

Strive to be a learned community that questions, studies, and honors the gift of Torah and the covenant with God.

Engage in inspiring worship and transformative experiences of Jewish spirituality.

Share a love and responsibility for each other, our community and country, for Israel, and for the future of the Jewish people.
